DEMAND SWIFT, STERN PUNISHMENT FOR GERMAN WAR CRIMINALS, REGARDLESS OF RANK; MALEFACTORS TO BE TRIED BY TRIBUNAL APPOINTED BY COMMISSION

Veteran Parliamentarian Echoes Orders of Eisenhower

CONSIDER GOERING
Should Be No Special Consideration For These Generals

LONDON, May 15—(INS)—Demands for swift and stern punishment of Nazi war criminals regardless of their rank was voiced today in the House of Lords as authoritative circles disclosed these international malefactors will be tried by a tribunal appointed by the United Nations War Crimes Commission.

In the House of Lords, veteran parliamentarian Lord Addison raised the question of treatment of Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering and other high-ranking Nazis, declaring—

"Goering is a criminal and should be treated as such. Prison is the right place for him, and the sooner he is brought to judgment the better."

Echoing yesterday's order of Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, Gen. Eisenhower, Lord Addison continued—

"There should be no special consideration for these generals, no publicity, no broadcasts, no hand-baking."

"Unless the whole German military machine is completely destroyed."

Men Take Charge of Service; Honor Mothers

NEWPORTVILLE, May 15—The Men's Bible Class of Newportville Community Church—Presbyterian, honored the mothers of the church on Sunday morning by taking full charge of the service and giving all mothers potted plants.

Fred Kohler announced the numbers; C. Bentley Collins led the singing; C. Burnley White offered prayer and gave a brief talk to the children. A vocal duet was rendered by the Misses Naomi Lowrie and Jane Wimmersberger, and Miss Janet Mattocks favored with a vocal solo. The speaker was Maj.
Edith Wenlock, of the Salvation Army, a resident of South Langhorne, who gave an interesting talk about mother's prayers which coincided well, as Sunday marked a day of prayer.

The Ladies' Bible Class donated a pew in honor of their teacher, Mrs. James Barclay, and also presented her with a bouquet of flowers. Mr. White dismissed the congregation with prayer.

Canvassers Will Begin
Their Solicitation Soon

CORNWELLS MANOR, May 15—The 7th War Loan drive for Corn-wells Manor and Echo Beach is set at $3,115. Of this, $1,165 is dedicated to the purchase of a jeep; and $1,950 to purchase of an ambulance.

Within the next week Mrs. William Durr and her assistants will begin canvassing, visiting every residence in the two communities.
To make this goal it is necessary for everyone to make a special effort to buy extra bonds, the workers state.

MEXICANS INJURED

An automobile driven by Carl Stockett, Green Lane, crashed into a pole on Bath street last evening at about 6.30. In the car at the time were six Mexicans, four of whom were injured. None of the injuries were serious and all were treated at the Harriman Hospital.

CHANGING TO ONE-FRONT WAR

By announcing promptly a program for redeploying the 4,000,000 soldiers who have fought so gallantly in Europe the War Department earns the gratitude of not only the men themselves but of their relatives in this country. While disappointment doubtless is in store for many Americans who may have thought their war days were over, there can be no gainsaying the fact that the plans as made public constitute an earnest effort to play fair.

Under the point system which has been adopted, each soldier will be able to fill out his own scorecard and determine exactly his future prospects. Parenthood, the number of months spent in the Army, length of overseas and combat service will all be weighed and considered in deciding whether a man shall be discharged or put in line for movement to the Pacific front. Certainly this plan is better than leaving the matter to chance or the whims of military authorities far from the scene of action.

It is clear that it will take considerable time for the nation to change completely from a two-front to a one-front basis. Excepting the few men already on their way from Europe to the Far East and the 400,000 destined to remain on guard on the continent, an army of more than 3,000,000 soldiers will have to be moved. Under the best of conditions, the mere task of transporting them will require a year.
In addition, they will all receive one-month furloughs and retraining when they reach America.

So Japan is not destined to feel immediately the full might of American military power. But its inevitableness may well inspire many uneasy thoughts in the Japanese. It is responsible for reports that influential Japanese circles are supporting a movement looking toward some sort of peace. There may be this sort of wishful thinking on the part of some Japs, but the war lords will remain in the saddle until the end, and the power they wield makes it certain that the end of the war in the Pacific can come only with the complete destruction of Japan and its military might.

What causes sleeplessness among Jap leaders is the knowledge that peace terms to Germany started as unconditional surrender and remained unconditional surrender to the end.

Canada has already eliminated a 25 per cent war tax on electrical household appliances and slashed other excise taxes. The Dominion is losing no time in going all-out for peace.

"French eager to send men to aid war in the Pacific." In this connection the Gauls will be safe in assuming that no power outside France is holding them back.

Senator McFarland of Arizona advocates easing of censorship.
Such a suggestion has never been known to come from a censor.

NORRISTOWN — (INS) — Like many another organization, the police department has felt the manpower pinch. In case any one has an urge to say "pull over to the curb" to offending motorists they can apply for one of five vacancies on the police force.

WILKES-BARRE — (INS) — A lack of ammunition has forced patrolmen to suspend their practice of shooting mad dogs as part of the anti-rabies campaign but they expect the WPB to approve extra supplies.

TWO-FRONT WAR

to bear in this fight, which are—so to speak—surplus resources, are to be reconverted to civilian use.

It is most conspicuous that none of our allies is planning to devote anywhere near so large a share of its energies to the Japanese war.

England started reconversion of important war plants many weeks before the German capitulation.
France, Russia, the Latin-American countries—all these are racing ahead preparing to produce goods for the markets of the world.

Repeatedly we are told that these nations expect our aid in post-war reconstruction. That is true. Basically, they all want two things. One is food, which has been promised to the point where Americans are warned to "tighten their belts." The other is heavy machinery—the assembly-line and mass-production equipment with which salable articles are turned out.

Vinson promises a "few" automobiles in six to nine months. Two months ago new post-war automobiles were to be seen on English roads.

He promises a quarter of a million new homes "next year." England already has built thousands, many of them with direct American aid.

We are going to start "immediately" making refrigerators. England already has them, as well as many other such scarce items as automobile tires and electrical equipment, ready for the export markets.

In dozens of foreign nations the restrictions on manpower, profits and raw materials have been rapidly lifting to encourage industrial expansion.

Vinson and Truman both announce that the United States is to keep virtually all such restrictions—except of course such trivia as the curfew and horse-racing ban which have nothing to do with production.

What makes all the more astonishing this determination of the bureaucrats to hang on to their war-powers till the last horn blows, is that the New Dealers foresee rather general unemployment starting almost at once.

They foresee idle workers—yet are unwilling to take the obvious steps which would put them to work!

There is just a touch of hysteria in many New Deal comments about the war with Japan. It is hard to remember that some of those who are telling us that it will take many years of all-out effort, risking the whole future of the United States, to defeat Japan are the same ones who before Pearl Harbor were telling us that Japan would never attack us—"we could lick her in a hundred days."

Had the war with Japan come up without involving the European conflict, it is unthinkable that we should have been called upon to give up all other activities, to submit to a universal manpower and industrial draft, to support such a war.

In any event, it would be just as illogical to ignore the second-front trade war we now face as it would have been to ignore either of the military fronts we fought during the period of German survival.

Reconversion cannot possibly be successful at the snail's pace which Vinson contemplates.

Tax reliefs for industries, incentives for risk capital, relaxation of some of the more severe restrictions on manpower and supplies—these and similar steps are imperative at once to reach two vital goals:

First, industrial survival of the United States in the coming post-war trade struggles—certainly for the preservation of our own home market for our own industries, and

Second, furnishing jobs for returning veterans.

What could be more fantastic than the bland assumption by Vinson and other New Dealers that mass American unemployment in the midst of world demand for goods is quite a matter of course!

LANGHORNE NIPS BRISTOL HIGH'S WINNING STREAK

Redskins Defeat Bunnies by The Score of 5 to 4

MAY PROTEST GAME

Langhorne Fights An Uphill Battle Throughout
Entire Game

LANGHORNE, May 15—Bristol's winning streak of seven straight games was shattered here yesterday afternoon as the Langhorne Redskins beat the Bunnies, 5-4, in an extra inning fracas. It is believed that Coach Harold Stackhouse will protest the game because two Langhorne players violated the league rules.

It was a single by Joe Lukens in the eighth frame that gave the Langhorne boys the triumph and Bristol's first league defeat. Lukens' single came after Herrmann had opened the eighth with a walk and stole second.

The Langhorne team fought an uphill battle to win the contest as in the first inning, "Bill" Erkes was tapped for four hits and the same number of runs. But from then on, Erkes had the Bristol batters popping up or grounding out as he blanked them the remaining seven innings and during this stretch only allowed three safe hits.

For the first time this season, "Toby" Oriola, Bristol's moundsman, was beaten. He was hit freely by the Langhorne batters who made ten safe blows. He was wild at times and passed four Redskins. Oriola added his own downfall by committing two errors.

Joe Centonze packed a heavy warclub for the losing team as he pounded out two doubles in four trips to the plate. His first two-bagger scored a run in the initial canto while he attempted to get a rally going in the eighth by doubling with one out but neither Collins nor Mandlo could push him around.

Wayne Schneider, Joe Lukens and Erkes had six of the winners' hits among them with Schneider getting a double and single, Lukens driving in the deciding tally and scored two others.

If the victory is not taken away from Langhorne, there is a possibility of a triple deadlock for first place between Langhorne, Morrisville, and Bristol, as the Langhorne team scored an 8-0 victory over Newtown last Friday.

In this game, Schneider led the Langhorne attack with four out of four, including a triple and home run. Newtown was only allowed two hits by Martindell and Doan.

assorted elements of the Democratic or New Deal party.

"For us Republicans, it is the golden opportunity. We must get together—must forget petty jealousies—must get back to the solid footing of Constitutional government."

"It is up to our party to solve the urgent post-war problems—in thirteen unhappy years the New Deal has shown that it is unable to cope with our domestic issues."

"Our veterans are returning from the battlefields. They have been over there fighting against the Nazi horror—they have seen it face to face.

"What do we want them to come back to—the very thing they have been fighting, government by executive decree? Or government under the American Constitution?"

"It is a grave duty which we Republicans have to these returning war veterans.

"When once more our American flag flies as a beaconlight to all other oppressed nations of the world, then we can say again with all the truth and fervor that filled the heart of Francis Scott Key:

"Our flag is still there!"

Mr. Kilcoyne's address was followed by musical entertainment and refreshments.

Many of the principal Bucks County Republican candidates now engaged in the primary election campaign were introduced during the program.

treatment given by Americans to the enemy.

During the two months that they were under confinement, they were permitted to send two postcards home. Red Cross packages that arrived were regarded by the men as luxuries.

Capt. William F. Norris, Newton, Ga., K Company Commander, 143d Infantry Regiment, recalled the day of February 10, when he was wounded. "My company was attacking a town that morning," he said. "The Germans put up a stiff resistance and we were forced to withdraw and wait for armor support. After the artillery lay down a cover barrage, we went up again but the Krauts were well dug in and before long they sent in a mortar barrage. I heard one shell hit. The next time I woke up I was in this hospital."

Sgt. William R. Rosenbaum, Richmond, Texas, was out on a combat patrol. His company was located near Bishweiler. "It was January 28 when I got it," he said. "Some mortar fragments got me and German medics then picked me up."

Injured near the same town was Corporal David B. Mustin, Philadelphia, Pa., member of George Company, 142d Infantry Regiment. "On February 1, we moved into town for the attack. Then the Jerries threw in mortars. I was hit and one of our medics took me into a cellar, dressed my wounds and said he'd be back later. Next thing I remember was a German sticking his head in the doorway and, well, here I am in the hospital."

About two weeks before the men were liberated, a German ward boy surprised them with a copy of Yank Magazine. It was the only reading material they had.

Occasionally a young SS trooper visited them and assured them that as soon as they recovered from their wounds, they would all be shot. "I haven't seen that guy since the French came," remarked Sgt. Rosenbaum. "He's due for a surprise if he comes," added the sergeant hopefully.

The six Yanks are now awaiting evacuation to an American hospital. Sgt. Rosenbaum is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rosenbaum, Route 1, Box 161, Richmond, Texas.

FLEETWINGS NINE LOSES THIRD GAME IN TRENTON LEAGUE

Bristol Aircraft Team Defeated by American Steel Team

FINAL SCORE IS 7 TO 1

Radoff Started On Mound
But Was Given Poor
Support

TRENTON, May 15—The Fleetwings team lost its third straight game in the Trenton Industrial League last night on Wetzel field as the American Steel nine won its sixth consecutive triumph. Final score was 7-1. This evening on Leedom's field, Fleetwings will meet the J. A. Roebing nine. Game will begin at 6:15 o'clock.

Manager Johnny Mulholland started Max Radoff on the hill for the airplane workers but Radoff was given poor support as the Trenton team scored four runs in the first inning on two hits. After the Steelers had added two more runs in the second and third, Radoff was replaced by Joe Sagolla. Sagolla gave up a run and two hits in the final four innings.

Nick Gambell hurled for the Steelers and allowed the Bristol boys but six safeties. He pitched air-tight ball from start to finish.

Manager Mulholland will shake up his line-up for tonight's contest. He has announced that Welsh will do the catching with Joe Aurigemma going to first base. Welsh is from St. Peters while Aurigemma is a Brooklyn boy. With the shift on first base, "Bill" Fine will go to rightfield to attempt to strengthen that post. Bert Barbeta will play second; Phil Carnevale, short; and Teddie Tosti, third. In addition to Fine, Fred Ciotti and Tom Dooley will be in the outfield.

Because of his fine work on the hill in the four innings he pitched last night, there is a likelihood that Joe Sagolla will again toe the mound.

The Roebing team has strengthened itself considerably since they played Voltz-Texaco last week and Coach Teddie Kearns has picked several more players from the Schroth's and Trenton High teams to bolster his line-up which is built around Mario Rossi and Kelly Kish.
